CULCAIRN PUBLIC SCHOOL

As part of our Sporting School program students in all classes have been enjoying golf lessons from Mrs Penny Graeber on Thursday. It's a new experience for some of our students and gives everyone the opportunity to learn and enjoy another sport. Students will also be participating in AFL and Netball clinics before the end of term—a great opportunity as we head into the Football and Netball season.

Our senior boys and girls represented the school at the Paul Kelly Cup on Wednesday 16th March. The weather wasn't great, but everyone tried their best and enjoyed the day. Congratulations to the senior girls who managed second overall on the day.

This year's Kindergarten students really enjoyed visiting the Culcairn Town Library recently for Storytime. They got to complete some interesting activities and listen to great stories. Thank you to Rebecca from Great Hume Shire for inviting us.

Congratulations to Rebecca Lindley, who represented our school at the Riverina Hockey trials in Albury last week. Rebecca had a terrific day and successful was in being selected in the Riverina team. Next term Rebecca will travel to Tamworth to compete in the state carnival. A terrific effort Rebecca!

CULCAIRN COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT COMMITTEE

After a successful community working bee in February with our town centre getting a tidy up, it is time to tackle another project to improve our surrounds.

On Sunday 1st May, between 2 and 4pm, community members are invited to join us for a clean up of the garden on the highway between the Storage Shed and the Culcairn Motel. The garden (originally established by The Garden Club some years ago) was a great entrance to our town, but in recent times has been "let go" and now needs some major attention.

Once again we hope that many hands can make light work. Please bring along some gloves and any gardening tools you can so we can "dig in" and make a difference. A sausage sizzle will be available at the end for participants.

For further details contact Michelle Godde 0408 238 664 and check out the posters in the main street.

to host Australia Day 2023.

Australia Day in Greater Hume is celebrated in a different community each year. Residents can take this opportunity to showcase their community to the rest of the shire.

IN YOUR GARDEN

Daylight saving has finished, and we come into a time of cooler, shorter days. There is still plenty to do in the garden, with harvesting and planting.

Vegetables—You can be still picking beans, cucumbers, zucchini, and tomatoes. Pumpkins are maturing now and will be ready soon. I have started to pick butternuts, but will wait until a frost to harden skins on later varieties.

It is time to plant or sow seeds now for:

- Broad Beans in rows with some support. I grow mine either side of a mesh trellis.
- Broccoli—successive plantings give an extended harvest time
- Cauliflower and Kale
- Peas of different varieties, including climbers.
- Onions—white, red and brown, grow well from seed
- Parsnip—use fresh seed for good germination
- Silver beet, Lettuce and Rocket

Bulbs are ready to sow too. Put tulip, daffodils, and hyacinths in the fridge crisper to chill. Sow late Autumn. Frost tolerant flowers to plant now include:

- Calendula, Cyclamen, Dianthus, Stock, both dwarf and tall
- Sweet peas (on St Patrick's Day) on trellises and Teepee frames
- Wallflowers—Great perfume
- Larkspur—they seed well, so become a permanent plant (mine are from original plants given to me in 1972)
- Poppy, Anemone, Ranunculus

Autumn colour in trees is happening now, so check out new trees in nurseries now. Enjoy your time in the garden, Margaret Pumpa

The club had a variety of toasties for sale and Kenny sold lots of delicious meals from his lunch time menu.

A lot of our members and guests bring their own nibbles and we supply unlimited tea and coffee and prepacked biscuits. Our next function will be held on 10th April from 12 noon till 4.30pm with special guest artist Grant Luhrs to entertain you.

CULCAIRN WELCOMES BREASTSCREEN NSW VAN

The BreastScreen NSW mobile clinic is in Culcairn from 2 May 6 May, _ providing free mammograms to eligible women. Women from Holbrook and Henty are also invited to attend. A mammogram can pick up cancers that cannot be seen or felt. In NSW one in seven women will develop breast cancer in their lifetime. For women over 50 years, a mammogram is the most effective method of finding breast cancer early. Veronica Scriven, Director BreastScreen NSW (Greater Southern) says a screening mammogram is one of the most important things women aged 50-74 can do for their health. "A mammogram every two years takes just 20 minutes and it could save your life. Detecting breast cancer early increases your chance of survival while reducing the likelihood of invasive treatment, such as mastectomy or chemotherapy." Many women believe they aren't at risk of breast cancer because there's no family history of the disease. "Around 90 per cent of women diagnosed with breast cancer have no family history. This is why breast cancer screening is so important for all eligible women." Veronica says having а BreastScreen NSW van in Culcairn makes it easier for women to attend their recommended two-yearly screening.

"Bringing these vital services to Culcairn means more local women can participate and get the support they need. Life gets busy and we want women to make their health a priority." The BreastScreen NSW van is in town from Monday 2 May until Friday 6 May at Culcairn Recreation Reserve on Federal Street. The service is free and there's no referral needed. The mobile clinic visiting Culcairn is equipped with a lift system to support women with health conditions or disability to have their mammogram. Women with additional needs are encouraged to let us know when booking their appointment.

BreastŠcreen NSW mobile vans include the latest digital mammography technology and a secure wireless communication system. The NSW Government, through the Cancer Institute NSW, is investing $65.1 million in breast cancer screening this financial year. Book a mammogram with BreastScreen NSW phone 13 20 50. Yearround screening services are available at the BreastScreen NSW clinic in Albury.

ABOUT THE BUSH Waterbirds in our backvard

After the big rains in early March a flood-out on a farm bordering the stock route on the western edge of town filled so much that a local wag painted a sign welcoming passersby to "Lake Elizabeth". The "lake" is one of the many temporary wetlands that have held water over the last 18 months. Though some of these flooded areas have disrupted production and contributed to stock health issues, there is also an upside with a boom in biodiversity on farms and an increase in on-farm pest control services provided by frogs, dragonflies and waterbirds. I've been keeping track of the various waterbirds visiting "Lake Elizabeth" and another nearby wetland and have recorded waders like Black-winged Stilts, Blackfronted Dotterels, White-faced Herons (or Blue Crane), White-necked Herons, Masked Lapwings, Ibises (both White and Straw-necked) and several waterfowl species including Wood Ducks, Pinkeared Ducks, Grey Teal, Pacific Black Ducks, Australasian Grebes, Australian Shovellers. Hardheads, Australian Shelducks and Pelicans.

Duck

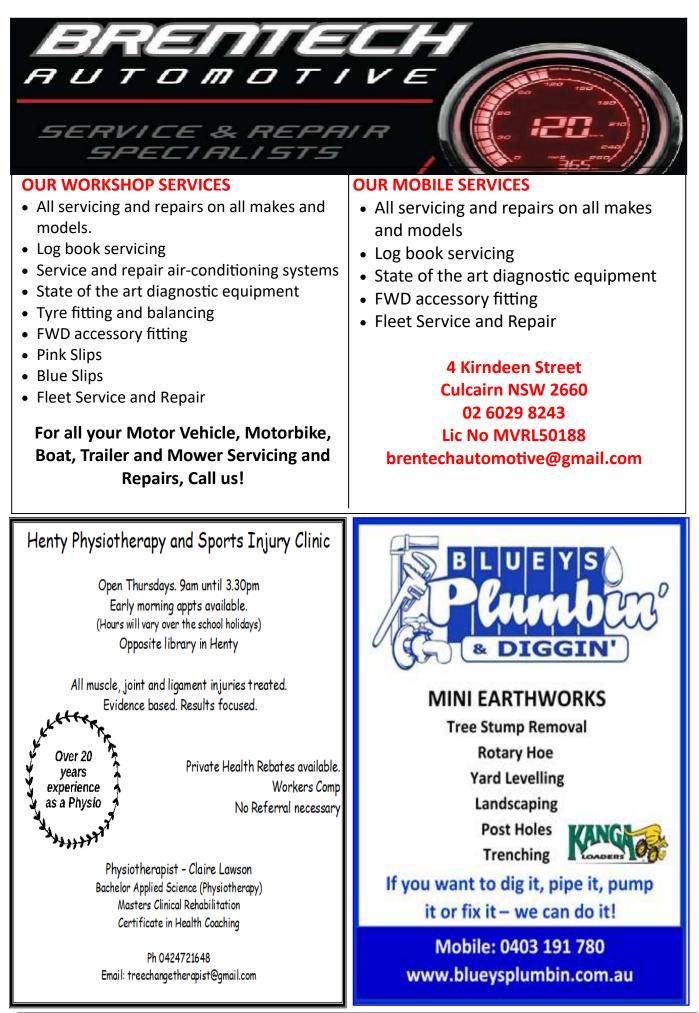

Black-winged Stilt

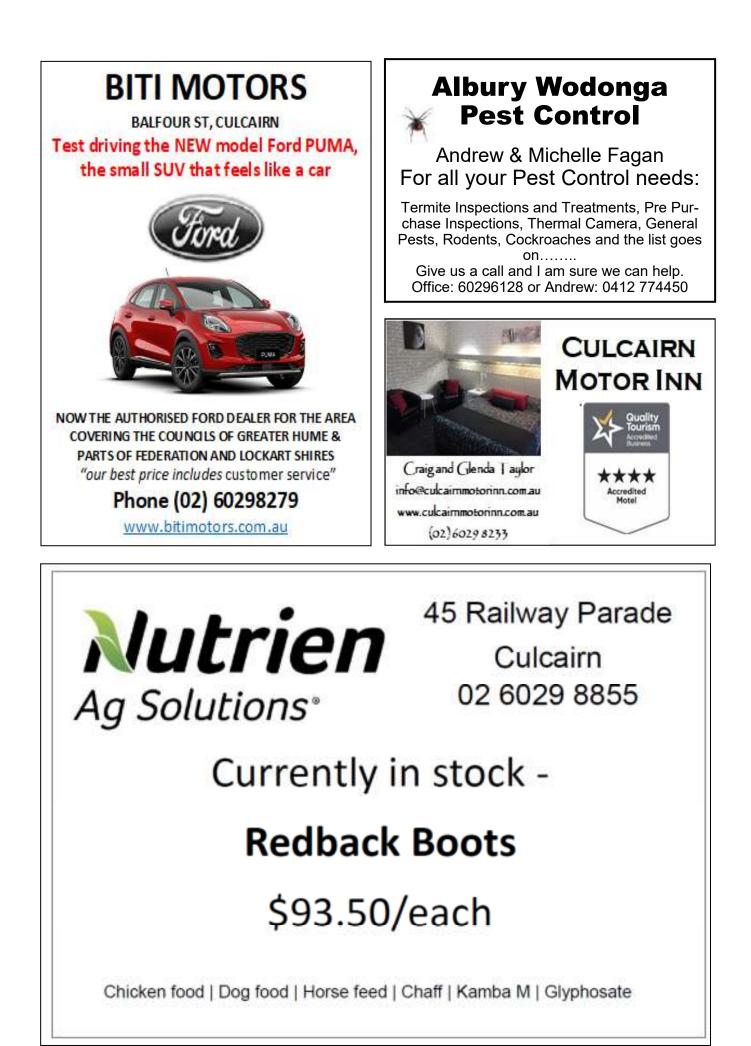

Black fronted Dotterel

Each of these waterbirds have different feeding strategies – some like stilts and herons use their long bills to probe soil for invertebrates or to stab frogs or small yabbies, while many ducks use their flattened bills to sieve invertebrates or algae out of the water. Wood Ducks on the other hand rarely feed in water, and mainly roam around the edges of dams or wetlands to feed on grasses. Ibis are known as farmer's friends because of the large numbers of pest insects such as locusts or crop damaging beetles that they consume each day – a far cry from the derogatory label their urban relatives cop: bin chickens!

With the steady decline in natural wetlands in agricultural areas, farm dams now play an important role in providing habitat for native wildlife. Fenced dams with planted shrubs and reeds and hardened access points for stock have been shown to greatly improve water quality, support a greater diversity of native wildlife, as well as emitting roughly 25% less methane (a powerful greenhouse gas) than unfenced dams. The Sustainable Farms program website https://www.sustainablefarms.org.au/on-the-farm/farm-

dams/ has a lot of good information about how to enhance farm dams to benefit both farm productivity and the natural environment. Colleen O'Malley
