Issue 450 16 January 2023

NEW YEAR AND A NEW DATE

From this first edition in 2023 the Holbrook Happenings is changing its publication from fortnightly to monthly. We are also looking for Expressions of Interest to take on the running of this much loved community newsletter. So, if you are part of a community group looking for a project or a budding editor we want to hear from you. Please contact Executive@greaterhume.nsw.gov.au to find out more. Management, Greater Hume Council

HOLBROOK LIBRARY IS HOSTING THIS EVENT TO CELEBRATE SENIORS WEEK

For the 55+ members of our community, we invite you to a fun and informative healthy lifestyle session presented by Josh Jones, a local within our community and Region Manager of Rural Fit Murray and Murrumbidgee. This event will run on Friday 3 Feb, 10am-1pm at Holbrook Library.

Rural Fit is a community of like-minded people who make health a priority in their life. A connection with community is essential to leading a productive and happy life.

Rural Fit is proud to play a role in the life of rural Australians, to develop their sense of belonging and connectedness, by providing a platform to measure health outcomes through movement and exercise.

Research tells us that we are healthier if we have real and close human connection with those around us. In Australia, as children and adults we often connect with important role models and mates for life through health, sport and fitness. Health, sport and fitness provide individuals with an avenue to discover who they are, develop emotional intelligence, resilience and a sense of fair play in a world that can be challenging to navigate.

Rural Fit's number one focus is to increase an individual's capacity for using exercise as medicine – if we do this everyone wins - ourselves and our communities. Rural Fit ensures it embeds itself in all the communities we serve. Rural Fit proudly sponsors local sporting teams and works in local schools and aged care facilities to ensure we support the health of the entire community. Rural Fit looks forward to supporting businesses and gaining further understanding on how we can help you best.

Please feel free to contact us at info@ruralfit.com.au or (02) 6765 9866.

Library Lovers Competition

Call in to any one of the Greater Hume Council libraries to enter our 2023 Library Lovers' Day competition.

All you need to do is write down a quote on love from your favourite book or poem and drop it in to your library (if you are not already a library member, it only takes a couple of minutes to join). In doing so, you go in to the draw to win a book voucher to the value of $40.

We will draw the lucky winner on 14 February. Call in any time between now and then to enter.

We also have some wrapped books for you to take on a blind date and a chocolate gift from us.

Holbrook Library TECH SUPPORT DROP IN SESSIONS

Would you be interested in being part of a volunteer group, at Holbrook Library, who take turns to be available on a Tuesday, from 2-3pm, to assist anyone who needs help with using technology? Things such as getting better at using smart phones, help with online services, printing electronic documents, help with scanning and printing photos....

Please phone the Holbrook Library 02 6036 0173 if you have the skills and the time to help.

Story Time

In 2023, we will have two Story Time sessions per month, 2nd Thursday of the month for 0-2 year olds (first session will be 9th March) and 4th Thursday of the month for 3-5 year olds (first session will be 23 February). Both sessions start time is 11am. Call in to the library to discuss how this will work for your family if you have children in both age groups.

HOT RODS IN HOLBROOK

Over the November 25th – 26th 2022 weekend there were 35 hotrods gathered for “Thommo’s Pub Run” in Holbrook sponsored by the Canberra based Poor Boyz Hot Rod Club for their Annual Half-Way Run, soon to become an annual event here.

The Rodders shared accommodation and meals between the Riverina Hotel, the recently refurbished Holbrook Hotel and various local venues.

Hot Rods were parked along the main street on Friday afternoon with Lieschke Motors’ 1968 HK GTS Monaro on display as well, treating locals and tourists to a fine lineup of great cars. Hot Rods are modified pre 1949 vehicles.

The Rodders enjoyed dinner and live music from a local pub rock band on the Saturday night at the Pre-opening of the new Holbrook Hotel which proved to be a great success.

“Thommo’s Pub Run Holbrook” is proposed to go ahead again on November 24th - 25th 2023.

NEW MURAL AT THE HARRY JARVIS WING

This is the beautiful mural painted by the very talented Mikayla Heir for the Harry Jarvis Wing at the Holbrook Hospital.

Our residents and visitors have loved watching this amazing art piece unfold into a beautiful piece of art for our residents to enjoy and talk about.

We chose the local wildlife artwork to enable a talking point for our residents, staff and families. We have found that this focal point at the entrance to the aged care is the point where everyone stops to admire Mikayla's work.

We are proud to be able to share the importance of something special such as local wildlife and art and to help demonstrate the important part it plays in Aged Care.

PROBUS

Here's to a happy and healthy New Year to all our members, family and friends!

A reminder that our first meeting for 2023 will be on Tuesday 31st January at the RS Club at 11:00am.

Everyone is welcome. We would love to see some new members! See you there!

Take note of the Seniors week promotion on the front page of this Happenings. Sure to be an excellent event and a great opportunity for our members to get some healthy lifestyle advice.

ANGLICAN NEWS

MURRAY AND FAITH LOCKE. There will be a thanksgiving service at St. Paul's Anglican Church, Holbrook for these two long time stalwarts of our town. The service will be held on Friday 20th January 2023 at 10.30 am.

We were pleasantly surprised on Sunday 1st January when the Archbishop of Melbourne, Philip Freier and his wife Joy dropped in for the service and morning tea. Suffice to say the team running the service was very nervous with no minister to help them.

The Op Shop is open again after our tireless volunteers have had a well deserved two weeks off. We continue to give thanks to all you people who donate goods to us. You know who you are and we continue to pray for your generosity.

Let us take this opportunity to wish you all a happy New Year.

PLANNING WELL UNDERWAY FOR 2023 HOLBROOK SHOW

The 2023 Holbrook Show date of March 19 is rapidly approaching, and the committee are excited to have all sections of the event back on the one site.

Outside entertainment has been booked, the programs are being finalized, with some new activities, and the grounds are looking good.

We encourage everyone to consider entering something in their local show. There are sections for produce, cookery, preserves, handicraft, wool, art, creative writing, plants, livestock, poultry and children's work, etc. You don't need to be an expert, you just need to have a go.

We are looking for someone to operate the canteen on the day because the Show Society simply does not have sufficient bodies to handle this at present. This would be an excellent opportunity for a community group to be involved and to help with their fundraising.

For any show enquiries: 0427 832 803

HOLBROOK LANDCARE

FREEBIES Available at the HLN Office

Calendars: The 2023 Sustainable Farms calendar features stunning images of the woodland flora and fauna that is found on farms. It also highlights the Sustainable Farms research and the multiple benefits of natural asset management on farms.

Mosquito Repellent: Thanks to Greater Hume Council, Holbrook Landcare has free mosquito repellent available for anyone who would like to call in and collect a bottle. This has been made available to the Council through a NSW Government initiative to help spread awareness of mosquito-borne diseases and protect people against them.

During the holidays the offer has been taken up by a number of people who have expressed their appreciation for the Greater Hume Council's initiative.

Japanese encephalitis vaccine (<https://www.health.nsw.gov.au/mosquitoes>) NSW has widened access to free Japanese encephalitis (JE) vaccine. The vaccination is highly recommended, and free, to people working and spending 4 or more hours outside and information is also included through the above link.

Mural: Holbrook Landcare has commissioned local Albury artist, Tracie MacVean to brighten up the external wall of the office.

After months of planning, work began during the Christmas break and has already attracted a great deal of interest from passers-by.

The mural features some of our threatened woodland birds and local wildlife, as well as having a nod to the local landscape.

It is interesting to see how a large scale artwork progresses and the inspiration and challenges involved.

At present the warmer weather is presenting one of the major challenges for Tracie.

ST PATRICK'S SCHOOL

Happy New Year!

Pray As we enter a new school year we give thanks to our God for the gift of education. Our opening school Mass will take place on Thursday 2 February 2023 at 10am. This Mass is also The Presentation of the Lord commemorating Jesus' presentation at the temple. We will also commission our Year 6 student leaders and present them with their leadership badges for 2023. All are welcomed and encouraged to join us for this occasion. Please join us for a cup of tea/coffee following mass in the COLA.

Live There are many exciting initiatives taking place this year in Catholic Education in the Diocese of Wagga Wagga (CEDWW).

Tuesday, 14 February, is a Pupil Free Day for our students as the staff come together across the diocese for the launch of two vital guiding documents. The first is the Bishop's Charter. And the second, a TransFORMative Learning Statement for all stakeholders involved in CEDWW. I look forward to sharing these documents with the broader community following the launch.

We are excited to obtain funding for further Capital Infrastructure Works that will see our student bathroom/toilet facilities upgraded. This is a much welcome project and will mean all buildings are now upgraded. This financial commitment from CEDWW and CSNSW cements our position as a provider of quality education in our region.

Learn As per the last few previous years students are invited to a Mathematics Assessment Interview. The interview provides our staff with crucial data to ensure programming and planning can be differentiated to best suit individual student needs within the classroom cohort.

Thank you to the parents for their commitment in bringing their children in for these interviews.

Would you like to further develop your child's leadership skills? We are offering limited enrolments for students in Year 3, 4 and 5 to build their leadership skills through a collaborative, focussed approach.

If you would like more information please contact the office on 6036 2288 to make an appointment with the Principal to see how we can enhance your child's confidence and leadership skills.

Important Dates for SPH

27/01/23 - Pupil Free Day, Staff Professional Learning. Office open 10.00am-3.00pm

30/01/23 - Mathematics Assessment Interviews. Uniform Shop Open

31/01/23 - All students return

06/02/23 - Intensive Swimming begins K-Yr6

For new enrolment enquiries please call 6036 2288. Please note the school office will be unattended until 27 January however please leave a message and we will get back to you as soon as possible.

PLANT PICK PLATE

While travelling around over the holiday period I have been peering into other gardens (my favourite pass time) and noticed many featuring Geraniums planted either in the ground or in pots. This old fashioned beautifully coloured pelargonium appears to be making a comeback in today's gardens. Like so many fashions in life, what is old is new again.

Modern trends are for easy care gardens with plants requiring minimal water so I can see why gardeners are choosing the Geranium. You are rewarded with colour all year round with summer displays of vibrant coloured flower heads en mass, ranging from white through to hot pink, deep mauve and ruby red. In winter, the foliage transform into colours of the earth, dark purples, soft browns and burnt copper tones. In addition the Geranium is extremely hardy requiring well drained soil, at least half sun and will tolerate heat and wind exposure more than other flowering bushes.

However, the plant will require some maintenance. To keep the bush compact and prevent from becoming leggy, progressive pruning is essential. Combine pinching the tips to encourage flowers instead of green growth with regular branch pruning to maintain an all year round bushy, colourful display, then take cuttings in Autumn. When planting into pots the gardener has options to move the colour to where it is best viewed around the garden and even indoors for a few days. Recently I purchased two at a plant sale so I am "on trend".

A plant that has endured the test of time and its suitability for gardens large and small deserves recognition. I would be not at all surprised to hear that the Geranium is the plant of 2023 given its low maintenance and colourful characteristics.

Passionate Gardener, June.

A Buddhist monk was invited to address a senior student group, and quite interestingly, as he entered the room, he didn't say a word (that caught everyone's attention). He just walked to the board and wrote this: "EVERYONE WANTS TO SAVE THE WORLD BUT NO ONE WANTS TO HELP MUM DO THE DISHES." The class laughed.

But then he went on to say this: "Statistically, it is highly unlikely that any of you will ever have the opportunity to run into a burning orphanage and rescue an infant. But, in the smallest gesture of kindness—a warm smile, holding the door for the person behind you, shoveling the driveway of the elderly person next door — you have committed an act of immeasurable profundity, because to each of us, our life is our universe." This is our hope for you in the New Year — that by your smallest acts of kindness, you will save another's world.

BRIEF HISTORY OF THE PURTELL FAMILY— HOLBROOK

John Purtell was born about 1801 at Rathkeale, Co Limerick. In 1822 famine in Ireland affected large numbers of people in the west and south of Ireland resulting in social unrest. In 1822 meetings of groups of people, after the imposed curfew, led to arrests and transportation. Young John Purtell was one of a group of 43 young men who met one evening in 1822 and were arrested. The group were tried at a Special Session at Limerick, convicted of an offence under the Insurrection Act and sentenced to transportation for 7 years. In May 1829 John was granted a Certificate of Freedom. John remained in the Camden district and in July 1834 he married Mary Hayes. John Purtell commenced leasing and purchasing land at Camden as early as the mid 1830s. Most of his children were born at Camden. However by 1837 John had arrived at, and had named, Ten Mile Creek (also know as Billy Bong, later known as Germanton and now Holbrook). In 1837 John commenced squatting on the Ten Mile Creek run. At the time the Ten Mile Creek run encompassed land from which two other large runs were later formed: the Annandale run and the Mountain Creek run. In 1866 he occupied two stations (or runs): Ten Mile Creek Station which comprised of an estimated area of 20,054 acres and the Mountain Creek Station which comprised of 29,744 acres. At the time the locality was known as Ten Mile Creek or Billy Bong.

John continued to lease and purchase land in the Ten Mile Creek area as the opportunities arose.

By 1858 John had built and opened the Criterion Hotel, in Ten Mile Creek. His son, Patrick held the licence of the hotel between 1861 and 1866 and John held the licence of the hotel between 1867 and 1869. He leased the hotel to other licences when neither he nor his son, Patrick held the licence. John also owned and raced horses and was a keen race goer.

In mid 1871 John developed dropsy (oedema usually due to heart failure). In January 1872 he and Mary attended the annual race meeting of the Ten Mile Creek Turf Club. An incident occurred which provided an insight to John's physical deterioration.

A buggy, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Purtell, senr., was upset under the following circumstances. It appears that Mr. Purtell, who has been an invalid for a considerable time, felt well enough to be driven out, and consequently was taken to the races in his buggy, to which, while standing on the course, the horse (which is a quiet one) remained attached. Some horseman carelessly tied his horse to one of the buggy wheels, and in a short time it became restless, pulling back, which caused the, horse harnessed to the vehicle to move forward, the result between the two being a capsize. Plenty of assistance was at hand, and the buggy was soon righted, when it was found that the occupants had escaped with some slight bruises only, which was all the more fortunate, considering the extremely helpless state in which Mr. Purtell has been for some time.

John died at Ten Mile Creek on 15 February 1872, probably at his home on the Ten Mile Creek property. He was buried at the local cemetery the following day. In his will John left his wife the Criterion Hotel, a paddock around the hotel and a 100 acres at Ten Mile Creek. The main beneficiaries of his will were his two younger sons, Maurice and William. Mary held the licence of the hotel for a short time in 1873 and 1875. An advertisement for the sale of the entire Ten Mile Creek estate and hotel appeared in the Albury Banner and Wodonga Express on 30 November 1894. In addition to the Criterion Hotel and the 91 acres attached to the hotel there were two other parcels of land in the town of Germanton and one of these came with a wooden cottage. The Ten Mile Creek Estate comprised of 8,569 acres and a description of the number of paddocks and other assets was included in the advertisement.

The homestead was described as a roomy and comfortable weatherboard residence containing 9 rooms, with detached kitchen, etc and surrounded by a good garden and orchard. There is also a good woolshed, with shearers' and men's huts, drafting yards for sheep, sheep dip, and all the conveniences for economically working the station.

The hotel was purchased by Mr. D M'Inness but the Ten Mile Creek Estate and the other parcels of land were passed in. Mary continued to live at the Ten Mile Creek homestead until her death on 3 July 1899.

The Criterion Hotel was destroyed by fire in 1895 and was rebuilt. It is now known as the Woolpack Inn and is a museum. The Ten Mile Creek Estate homestead was pulled down in the late 1890s, although the current house stands on the site of the original house.
