GARDENS, BREAD MAKING AND PIZZA FOR WELL BEING

Doubling up on happiness and well-being. Mental health awareness and well-being was centre stage at Holbrook Rotarians' Hats Off to Mental Health night held at the home of Anne and John Cox.

An enthusiastic roll up of Rotarians and partners gathering around John's handmade stone pizza oven in their lantern lit courtyard.

One of the highlights was walking around and enjoying the views of a beautiful rural garden, thriving vegetables, fruit trees and John's dry-stone wall sculptures, bridges, pathways, and borders.

Bruce Quick's pizza dough was a triumph – few of us had seen so much dough in such a massive dish.

The magic was in its lightness and movement: scrumptious too.

Bruce believes making freshly baked bread (and pizza dough) is healthier, tastier, creative, soothing, and psychologically satisfying. The constituents were simple: baker's flour, water, salt, and yeast. Bruce added the yeast to a measured quantity of warm water and let it sit for about 15-30 minutes, so the yeast activated. He added the flour then the salt last. His warning: adding salt directly to the yeast water mix can kill the yeast. He used a stand mixer with dough hook to mix the dough.

Bruce said, "the dough I made up for the pizza night is the same I use to make my daily bread loaf; the difference is the bread dough "proves" and then requires a second rise for the pizza base."

Adding to his well-being theme, he noted, "The Huntington Post reports that in 2017 five people who were mental health residents at Bethlem Royal Hospital in London had six two-hour sessions baking bread by hand and answered weekly questions. They reported feeling happier, creative, and having a sense of achievement.

"Bread, the most staple of food; starting with the same ingredients as people making bread 2000 years ago and ending with a product that will feed the family is very satisfying.

"I recommend it, everyone should bake a loaf of bread at least once in their life," Bruce said.

GAMES, GAMES AND MORE GAMES – MOW SOCIAL CONNECTIONS

Wow, have you ever noticed the amount of games there are in the App store? What is an App store? The App store is an online digital structure that is owned and operated by Apple Inc. It is a way to explore and download games, options to video call, ways to explore where you live etc. to you iPad, iPhone or iPod, allowing you to download and use shortcuts (Apps) to access what you are interested in.

We have a lovely lady in our iPad program who has become a master at using the App store for downloading games. Cheryl has been able to work on jigsaw puzzles, colour in on her device and decorate using diamond dots. Cheryl is now able to take photos of her creations to store on her iPad, send to family or to review in the future. Cheryl has the confidence to explore the App store and search up new and exciting games, looking through the examples and downloading ones she is interested in. After some time working with our Social Connections worker, Ruth, Cheryl now finds the process easy and efficient. She is now confident to play the games with or without the internet by turning the mobile data on or off.

Ruth is working 2 days a week to help people in the Holbrook Meals on Wheels Social Connections project explore and become confident using their iPads. This is a FREE service funded by the Commonwealth government to support social connections during COVID-19.

Book review

A Life on Our Planet: My Witness Statement and Vision for the Future by David Attenborough.

Wow! This is a great book.

I have only just finished it but I am starting back at the beginning to read it again because it is one of the most important books I have ever read. Some of you may have seen the accompanying film that has also just been released.

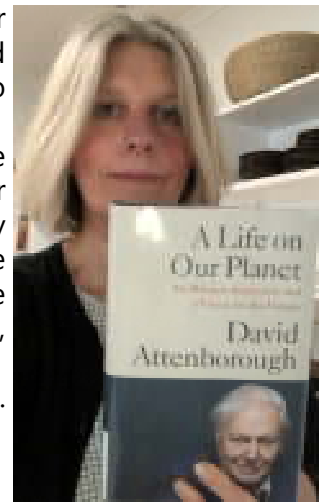

There have been many books, articles, conversations, all of which are based around the stability of our planet.

What makes this book, for me, stand out amongst the rest? I guess, like so many of us, ever since watching David Attenborough's Life on Earth series, I have held him in high esteem.

He is now 94 and has devoted his life to teaching us about life on Earth. So when I read his witness statement and vision for our future, I trust and respect what he has to say.

His book is about the decline of our wildlife, our biodiversity. It is the story of how we came to make this, our greatest mistake and how, if we act now, we can put it right.

This book is for all of us.
Dom

Book Week 2020 fun in the library

This year the Book Week theme was Curious Creatures, Wild Minds.

The K/1/2 children from St. Patrick's visited the library to listen to some of the shortlisted books and participate in a craft activity. They were also fascinated by our display of curious creatures. Thank you to Holbrook Landcare for giving us the opportunity to borrow them. Amongst the favourites was a mummified micro bat, a mummified baby Ring-tailed Possum and a skeleton of a small bird. Dom also visited both the toddler group and the three and four year old group at Holbrook Greater Hume Children's Services. The children and staff were a lot of fun and enjoyed joining in with the singing, moving, craft and listening to some of the shortlisted books.

HOLBROOK LANDCARE

We have been very fortunate with the weather in recent weeks and have been able to be involved in a couple of outdoor activities. Kylie is in the process of using these to make a brief video which can be shared with some of our older residents who were unable to join us.

Holbrook Landcare, as part of the Healthy Towns program, had a morning walk through the Ian Geddes Bush Reserve a couple of weeks ago. It was a lovely morning to be out listening to the different birds and having a peek inside some of the nest boxes to see who was using them. We finished the walk with a tasty, and healthy, morning tea provided by J&B's Café.

The following weekend saw Kylie at a Birds on Farms Field Day at Five Ways Reserve near Henty. This was an activity run in conjunction with Eastern Riverina Landcare and Birdlife Australia, and helped to provide participants with some practical tips and advice on how to plan revegetation and improve the natural assets on their own farm.

Don't forget that the Holbrook Landcare AGM is coming up (8am Thursday 12 November). Anyone who may be interested in becoming involved is invited to complete a nomination form for the HLN Board.

PROBUS

Good news for Probus members. Our Christmas Lunch will be held on Tuesday 24th November at the R.S. Club at 12:00. Cost will be $15 ahead for a 2 course lunch payable on the day.

Unfortunately due to the COVID-safe guidelines we are restricted to 30 guests in tables of 6 or 8 with social distancing regulations applying. If you wish to attend please phone Cathy Jones on 0484 561 638 as soon as possible so as not to miss out. Final numbers by 10th November.

Unfortunately many of our traditional Christmas trimmings are also not allowed so we are asking members to purchase a small gift for Kris Kringle ($5 or less). A little bit of Christmas fun. Hopefully Probus meetings can return in January next year.

HOLBROOK ROTARY

Holbrook Rotarians welcomed two new members Belinda Izzard and Scott Beattie to their club at the Thursday dinner meeting held at the RS Club on October 20.

Scott and his wife Jodie are relatively new residents to Holbrook. Scott was interested in community work from an early age, joining Apex at the age of 18 and volunteering for 8 years until the club folded. He gave service clubs a rest for a few years then a friend introduced him to a Rotary Club in the Hunter Valley where he was a member for 18 months. On arrival in Holbrook Scott says he joined Rotary to meet new people and do volunteer work in the community.

Belinda, husband Rod and three of their four children moved to Holbrook 17 years ago from the Berry-Gerringong area. Rod was in the transport industry and most of his trips were between Sydney and Melbourne at that time. Since then the children have grown up and moved away. Belinda sometimes travels with Rod all over the country and does the bookkeeping and office duties for their business. She has worked at various times as a cook and as a volunteer at the Holbrook Submarine Museum. Belinda and Rod got to know local Rotarians when they joined in the fun of the club's Four-Wheel Drive Days in the Woomargama National Park and Upper Murray trails. "I thoroughly enjoyed them and joined Rotary for the social aspects and becoming more involved in the community," she said. Rotary brings together a global network of volunteers who dedicate their time and talent to tackle the world's most pressing humanitarian challenges such as poverty, health, fresh water, sanitation, education, and accommodation. Their work impacts on lives at both local and international levels from helping families in need in their own communities to working toward a polio free world.

PLANT PICK PLATE

Tasks in the garden at this time of the year are mammoth. Moving through my garden with a list of jobs I notice the apple trees have fruited. We all want a bounty of fruit on our trees to harvest so it can be heartbreaking to remove some of the fruit babies. It is recommended to leave only three babies per group on the trees in order to achieve large superior fruit. This culling is also beneficial to the tree so the branches do not become overlaid and cause tree stress. I checked out the apricot tree which has naturally dropped excess fruit so hopefully many plump, juicy apricots this season. It is now time to net the fruiting trees from the birds and the fruit fly while also installing fruit fly traps.

Nearby, I have a grape vine with tender young leaves hiding the bunches of baby grapes that have quickly developed. The main pest of concern here is the black caterpillar and of course they are happily munching on the young leaves. Regular squishing keeps them under control as is regular tying of the tomatoes to supports necessary, ongoing tasks for both plants.

Next is harvesting the winter growing vegetables, in my case the white onions and the garlic. The lower leaves have died down and the plants are starting to seed so remove to make room for summer plantings. Now that I have no seedlings, my small hot house is perfect for the initial drying prior to hanging the onions and garlic in the shed.

The last on my list are the peas. Harvest the remaining crop then pull them all out. Mine harboured a family of snails and signs of mould. This bed is perfect for a new crop of beetroot and carrots. Take pleasure in your garden tasks. Passionate Gardener, June.

ST PATRICK'S SCHOOL

What an action packed couple of weeks St Patrick's staff and students have had! We celebrated Book Week, started gymnastics coaching, participated in a fun run all whilst engaging in rich learning. Friday was World Teacher's Day! Daily I am thankful for the skill and expertise demonstrated by the teachers at St. Patrick's.

This week's staff meeting was again proof of the teaching excellence demonstrated at St. Patrick's School. As a staff we moderated a Common Assessment Task (Narrative Writing) administered to all students Kinder-Year 6. Moderation enables teachers within our school to develop and apply a consistent and precise language of assessment.

Book Week: Wow! Firstly thank you to each and every one of you for the trouble you invested in dressing your child/ren for the book week parade. This is the first school I have worked at where every student and staff member dressed as their favourite book character. Again a credit to the staff for the commitment they show our children.

I must say the highlight of my book week was finishing with the whole school curious creatures obstacle course, designed and set up by the K/1/2 students. They had the older students dodging, sliding, leaping, crawling, tunneling, running and much more.

Gymnastics: St Patrick's students tumbled into Week 3 thanks to Flyaway Gymnastics Albury. We were successful in receiving a grant from Sporting Schools Australia to run this program. The students were engaged from the start of their session until the end.

Fun-Run: The weather was magnificent as we participated in our Fun Run (Wacky Races) on Thursday. Students had obstacles set up around our expansive grounds to navigate, not to mention staff armed with squirty bottles!

HOLBROOK PUBLIC SCHOOL

There has certainly been plenty happening at Holbrook Public School in the last two weeks, with the promise of a lot more to come!

On 21st September the students from Years 3-6 enjoyed a visit from two ladies from MAMA in Albury. They showed the students some art work by Aboriginal artist Treahna Hamm, who is a local Yorta Yorta woman. This was a great experience for all of the students.

On 22nd September a group of Year 5 and 6 students participated in an NRL Gala Day in Albury. They were able to enjoy plenty of rugby league and league tag games, showing great team work, skill, resilience and encouragement to their team members. Well done to all involved.

Last week we celebrated Book Week with the theme 'Curious Creatures, Wild Minds'. All students were able to browse over the books for sale and fill out their wish lists. On Friday 30th September we held two book parades (K-2 and 3-6) so that all of the students could show off their magnificent costumes, which ranged from unicorns to pirates to super heroes. $2,912 was raised this year, and nine books were donated to the library. This was a great effort, considering that parents were not able to visit and look at the books this year.

We have Public Speaking presentations starting next week. All students will present a speech to their class, and the best two from each class will then speak in front of the whole school and do an impromptu speech. This is another way that we encourage our students to step out of their comfort zone and extend themselves whilst developing a lifelong skill.

Kinder orientation: The pre-schoolers are able to come along and visit Holbrook Public School on Nov 2nd, 10th, 18th & 26th from 9:45 – 11:30 am each week. A parent information session will be held via Zoom for new parents on 30th November. Details about this event will be sent directly to parents. We look forward to seeing all of our 'new Kinders' at school!

Just a reminder that enrolments can now be done online. If you have a student planning to come to Holbrook Public School next year, go to the school's website for further details or give us a call at the school.

Coming Up:

- Murray Conservatorium workshop (5th November)
- Joffa's Toonschool visit (11th November)
- Public Speaking (12th, 13th November)
- Billabong High School Year 6 Taster Day (17th Nov)
- Year 3/4 Rugby League/League Tag Day (19th Nov)
- Captain Speeches (25th November)
- House Captain voting (26th November)
- Presentation Day webinar (10th December)

ANGLICAN NEWS

"O Lord, it is hard to be humble when you are perfect in every way," are the words from a popular song. Unfortunately, we all live with defects and imperfections, and yet we humans struggle to be humble. I am reminded of my imperfections every time I go to write something because I have a degree of "Dyslexia" which caused me to get words in the wrong place, spell incorrectly, and mix up dates, etc. You may have noticed this in my articles. My mum used to say that what we are not good at in one way we make up for in other ways, which I believe we all do.

I get disheartened with the T.V. shows that have perfect people shown as living the perfect life. When I was living in Canberra, I spent time as a Chaplain to a community of people who worship at our church, these people were Government Diplomats from all around the world and they had flash cars, lived in mansions, wined and dined at the best places, etc. I thought they had the perfect life, But, when I visited them at home, I discover that this was all a front, and that they did not enjoy living like this, they were unhappy because they had to represent the best their country could be, but it was not who they really were. In the Book of Proverbs in Chapter 17:1 it reads, "It is better to have a sandwich in the quiet in the bush on your own than go to a party where there are fights (my version)." In other words, accept what you have and who you are and enjoy being you, faults and all. When you accept yourself, it is easier to accept other people faults and all.

A joke: An untidy homeless man went to a perfect church during worship and the people threw him out into the bushes. The homeless man was surprised to find another man with long hair and beard in the bushes with him. He told this other man what had just happened to him and the other man replied. "They threw me out too and I am Jesus Christ." Remember: Humble Pie is not very tasty but it will keep you alive. On Saturday October 24th, in place of the Annual Flower Show, The Anglican Church and the Community Gardens combined to hold a Plant and Flower sale event at the op-shop. It was a very wet day and it was a great success socially and financially. This year was our 99th Flower Show "event" and next year will make it the 100th. We thank the Community Gardens for sharing in the day with us and also our community of Holbrook for your support and fellowship.

The winner of 1st prize in the Raffle Mary Savill who won the colourful Sunflower Quilt made & donated by Leeola Davis. 2nd Prize was a basket of treats and was won by Jenny Gillespie. 3rd Prize had two bundles of books, plant seeds and gardening tools which were won by Mary Halverson and Gail Davis.

The Op-Shop has been going well and we have a half-price sale on clothing and abundance of books looking for new homes so come and have a look at a book, or two.

Best wishes from the Community Gardens, Anglican Church and Rev Stephen Davis 0429 845 525.

MEN'S BOWLS

Hello from the men's bowls group. Only one match from the 3rd round of the Handicap club event played. Swanie proved much too good for yours truly, winning comfortably.

The Club Triples commenced and the winning skips were, Rosscoe Smith, Billy Bates, Chris Heather & Graeme (Bol) Joyce. In the 1st semi final, "Tiger" Smith's team has drawn Billy and age hasn't affected him one bit, his bowling is a lesson to us "young" fellas. The other match sees Mr 1%'s team (Chris Heather) up against Claytons Heroes (Bol) Joyce. Good luck to all bowlers.

At some clubs when you bowl a wrong bias it either costs you a gold coin or shouting alcoholic beverages to others. One of our bowlers is very lucky we don't have that rule in place as he threw 3, yes 3 in one game. We won't name him, however he does hail from that lovely country just South East of Tassie!!!! Hello Bro.

Social bowls as usual Tuesday, Friday and Saturday at 1.30 and Sundays at 10.00. Twilight bowls will have commenced at the time this issue reaches you, so let's hope for good weather and fun evenings.

Information regarding our presentation/BBQ will be provided shortly.

MEN'S SHED

Hello from the Men's Shed. Things are moving along at a steady pace at the shed. We have several projects going along at the moment, the most challenging one being an antique high chair refurbishment.

We are now working with Rotary on a project which at the moment is in the planning stage only so I won't go into any detail, but my wife and I did enjoy a very nice evening and dinner with them on Thursday night.

We are still struggling with very low membership with only about six regular attendees which is a bit sad as this time last year we were flush with members, however hopefully when we get our new shed we will attract some more people. We are not just about doing woodwork and that sort of thing, we are about men's health, physical and mental, and looking out for each other.

LEST WE FORGET – WILLIAM DALY Private William Daly was born to Patrick and Mary Daly, of Germanton, in March 1899. Daly grew up on his parent's farm at Mullengandra, with his siblings: John and Sarah. He was educated at home by tutors and governesses, and as well as working on the family farm, Daly was known to be a very talented musician, playing tunes on the piano and piano accordion. When the First World War broke out, Daly's father and brother attempted to join up, but were turned down due to not meeting medical requirements. After his brother John, received a white feather, an angry William Daly felt he needed to stand up for his family name. So, at only fifteen-years-old he decided to run away to join up, yet was discovered, and taken home before he could enlist.

However, William Daly ran away from home again and was employed with New South Wales Railways. He lived at the Railway Hotel at Junee and worked on the Albury-to-Sydney line. In April 1916, Daly enlisted. He gave his age as twenty-one and was accepted by recruiters. He embarked in September, arriving in England in late October. After training, he joined the 4th Battalion and in mid-December he sailed for France. The 4th Battalion spent the next few months rotating in and out of the front line. On the evening of 28th February 1917, Daly was in reserve trenches. At the time the trenches were being heavily shelled, by the Germans. One shell landed in the post occupied by Daly and another man, wounding them both severely. William Daly died of his wounds soon after the incident, being only seventeen-years-old. He was buried the following day in which is now the Bazentin-le-Petit Military Cemetery, France.

LADIES' GOLF

On our Closing Day we played a 2-person Ambrose. Winners were Brook Mathewson and Jane Quick. Runners-up were Liz Plunket and Marg Geddes. 17 ladies played. Welcome Gretchen. We then enjoyed a delicious lunch at the RS Club- with lots of laughs! Presentation Day is Saturday 21st November. Nine holes of golf followed by lunch and the AGM. Twilight Golf will hopefully get a start this Friday. Organise your partners play Stableford 9 holes between 4:30pm and 7:30pm. $5 entry. Win a meat tray! Come along for a fun evening.

Tales from Lady Gail's Bookshop and Curios

Once upon a time when someone came in looking for old children's books, I could pick out the oldest books and be on the mark. Now, 18 years on, I have to look at the age of the person asking and think... How old are you? What books were around when you were a kid? It's not Tom Sawyer, Robin Hood or Black Beauty or Heidi. No, it's quite often Baby Sitters Club or Goosebumps, even Harry Potter is over 20 years old. Imagine that. One children's author who has stood the test of time is Enid Blyton. Adventurous Four, Famous Five, Secret Seven, Noddy, the Circus Stories, the list goes on. She has been popular with generation after generation. She was born 1897 and died 1968. She had 700 titles published between 1922 and 1964. The last being a Noddy. So when people say, I only collect old 1st editions, what is it they really want? That's right! The published versions that they remember when they were a kid.
