NEEDS YOUR HELP

WE ARE LOOKING FOR A NEW COMMUNITY MINDED EDITOR

The current editor/coordinator will be stepping down in March 2020.

This is a great volunteer position for someone who has the Jindera community at heart and wants to further community spirit by informing people about what's happening in our neighbourhood.

Ideally you would have or be able to attain the following:

- familiar with Microsoft Publisher or similar software & the production of multi-page newsletters
- oversee the monthly production of the Jindera News
- liaise with local clubs and community groups regarding news items
- liaise with customers by helping with and quoting for advertising space
- assist in sourcing and editing local stories for inclusion
- make decisions regarding the inclusion of ads, news items and photos for publication
- work with the volunteer assistant editor/compiler
- produce a monthly billing sheet for the Rural Care Link Treasurer

The Jindera News is published at the end of each month and the final production is printed by a local printer. There are 11 editions each year as there is no January edition.

This volunteer role of editor/coordinator works under the auspices of Rural Care Link and requires you to be a volunteer member of the Rural Care Link management committee.

This is effectively an autonomous role presenting a multi-page local newsletter with the need to make independent decisions regarding published content.

If you have been wanting to get involved in the community and this style of volunteer community service is something you feel you could do, please contact the editor to discuss the role, at:

Jindera CWA News

HAPPY NEW YEAR EVERYONE

It has been an emotional holiday period with bushfires, lack of rain and farmers struggling to keep stock alive.

The NSW – CWA has set up a Bushfire Relief Support, with funds available from the Disaster Relief Fund which has been supporting many CWA branches working for their communities. Our State President Stephanie Stanhope has been a victim of the bushfires when she lost her home in the Bega fire.

Last year in December, Judy and Mark Steer generously offered their home as the venue for our Christmas party, members enjoyed the day with everyone bringing a plate, what a feast was had by all. Special guest was Group President, Lyn Buck, who surprised long time member, Joy Southcombe when she presented her with CWA Life Membership. Congratulations Joy, her two grandsons Connor and Tyler McPherson made a surprise visit for the presentation.

Jindera CWA was pleased to present book awards at the Jindera Schools to end the school year.

Jindera Pre School – a book for the library.

St. John's Lutheran School – Congratulations to Norah Johnston.

Jindera State School – Congratulations Phoenix Edwards – Achievers Award.

Mary McKillop – Congratulations Carmel Bell – Encouragement Award.

Our first meeting for 2020 will be Wednesday 5th February in the School of Arts hall – 9.30 for 10a.m.

The meeting will include the Land Cookery competition. Winners will compete in the Group competition to be held at Gerogery in March.

Yours in CWA Friendship.

Bev. Blair. - President.

THE JINDERA AGED CARE HOSTEL IS LOOKING FOR VOLUNTEERS

We are a small group who meet as friends of the staff & residents to learn what things could be provided for the comfort & wellbeing of the residents the extra little luxuries!

In the past we have held: Trivia Nights, Christmas and Easter Raffles and/or Cake Stalls and Sausage Sizzles.

These events have raised money for items such as: a bird bath, outdoor seats, raised garden beds (3), for growing vegetables by the residents if they are able, (this caused a "tomato competition" between two gentlemen!), garden fountain and a "bubble wall" feature for 'the quite room'.

We meet on the last Friday of the months of February, May, August & November in the small meeting room (originally the Doctors Waiting Room) at 10.am. Kerry usually joins us and gives us an update of "comings, goings & doings" of the complex. At present the last few of us left standing are getting older ourselves. Several are not well, two are now residents and one retired to Queensland, so it's a "life & death" situation for our little group. You would be very welcome to join us and make a visit while you are at the Hostel.

Greater
Hume
Council

Bushfire affected residents in Greater Hume Council abandoned!

Residents of Greater Hume Council impacted by the bushfires that have swept across the region are feeling frustrated and abandoned as they continue to wait for news on whether they will be able to access emergency bushfire grants of up to $75,000.

Greater Hume Mayor, Heather Wilton, has been lobbying Federal and NSW government politicians for the last 10 days only to be told that a decision is "imminent".

Councillor Wilton said "I have to say that the drip feeding of news on this is only adding to the stress and frustration that we, and our residents, are feeling. We will all have a lot to learn from this disaster and one of the issues at the top of the agenda will have to be the way in which assistance is provided to people impacted by natural disasters. I truly feel for people in Greater Hume who have lost practically everything in relation to their farming business and are still waiting for news on whether they can access the bushfire recovery grants. This major fire event started three weeks ago! People are looking for long-term help and the only way they are going to get that help is to have Greater Hume included in the Category C declaration."

The frustration felt by Greater Hume has been exacerbated by the news that landowners in all of the Victorian councils across the border from Greater Hume, even including Wodonga City Council, are eligible for grants of up to $75,000.

Landowners and Greater Hume Council should be treated exactly the same as those councils in north east Victoria and Snowy Valleys Council. This is one fire event and all of the landowners and councils impacted should be treated fairly and equitably."

Jindera Bush Fire Brigade

Well, the season we've been dreading for a number of years is upon us. We can't escape it on our television or social media so enough said. If there is anything good that can come out of this summer it is the reminder to us all that we have work to do and enjoy the important reminder of how a community can come together in a common cause when the chips are down.

Amazing Lavington

There's plenty to say about our own great community and we'll get there but it is impossible not to first pay tribute to the Lavington Brigade and the way they stepped up to coordinate and manage the huge flood of donations in kind from the border community. This is not something we've trained or planned for but Kathy Barnes and her team set up the infrastructure to roster volunteers, collect donations and sort them into care packs for the fire fighters and evacuees.

The huge task required communication with outlying centres to ensure they weren't being flooded with unneeded stuff.

And even assisting evacuees who either couldn't return to their houses - or in the worst case have lost their homes - through initial stages of temporary adjustment providing basic welfare and support.

We'd like to now be able to give them a big "well done" but while the recent cooler and damper weather has provided a respite, sadly, with still half of the fire season to come, their work is ongoing.

So it can't be well done but really very "well doing" Lavvy.

The local scene

Since our last report, men and women from your local brigade have been in fire fighting and management roles at fire-fronts at Jingellic, Wantagong, Talmalmo and Wodonga as well as smaller incidents at Gerogery West and Funks Road. There have been many long and exhausting sessions and we've all seen the news reports giving a good idea of the challenges and dangers of their work.

Enter the local volunteers!

When "Postman Pat" Hayes contacted the captain to ask what help volunteers could give the brigade he was asked if he could get together a couple of workers to clean up the trucks between sessions at fires.

We girls all know the sheer bliss of coming home after a tiring days work to find that hubby has put the kids to bed, cleaned the house to a sparkle and prepared a fabulous meal. (Or we know of someone who has. Or read about it in a book.) Such was the unbridled pleasure from what the teams returned to.

Pat says that he put a notice asking for volunteers on Facebook - targeting first the Footy and Netball Clubs - and was blown away by the response. 40 odd volunteers from all parts of the community made short work of the filthy trucks and moved on to the rest of the shed.

And topped it off by putting together first aid packs for the teams.

Thank you Jindera, it really has given the Brigade a lift and we're thinking of making it an annual event.

The Sign we don't have

We have regularly and unsuccessfully applied for a grant to allow us to enter the 21st century with a highly visible and remotely programmable LED signage tower mounted at Brigade headquarters. Sadly, the community's safety has not been deemed a high enough priority to date but we have another application before Council and NSW State Government.

I doubt that there is a person in Jindera today who would not recognise how important it would have been to have had real time updates of local conditions highly visible in the main street over the last two months. It's hard to imagine we'll be unsuccessful again this time given the times but we've been confident in the past and it hasn't worked out so well.

And if we are unsuccessful again, we will be appealing the decision and asking you to join us in a campaign. The need is obvious.

Thanks again Jindera
Nafa

Epitaph

Fire grounds are dangerous places and sometimes, no matter the level of training, accidents happen. Many lives have been lost in fires along the whole Eastern seaboard of our country in the last few months. Closest to home we lost a colleague from Morven.

What a fantastic way to celebrate our wonderful graduating class of 2019. We shared a beautiful meal, laughs, dancing but most importantly, we acknowledged the efforts and bright futures of these awesome students!

Also, a farewell to the long standing families who left us in 2019.

Thank you for your support and generosity over the years, you will always be part of the St John's family.

At the end of Term 4 our Primary students participated in a week of intensive swimming. The students walked down with their teachers to the Jindera swimming Pool, where the students had professional instructors who spend their time teaching the students how to swim. Even though the weather was a bit warm the students enjoyed every moment learning new swimming techniques.

As part of our PD/H/PE program for secondary students, they have also participated in swimming down at the Jindera Pool. The students have enjoyed being able to cool off at the end of a warm day. These students will continue to participate in swimming though out term 1 2020.

Before we ended the year at SMMC we held our school production of “Into the Woods” we thank St Johns for allowing us to use their school hall for this production. The students put in many hours of hard work into learning lines and making props. We had a group of parents who helped out in many ways including: costume making, prop making and helping with lighting and sound. A massive thank you goes out to our teacher Dr Magdalene Kaur for all her efforts in making this production possible. Thank you to every one who was able to come along. The play was very well done and was very enjoyable to watch. The students and staff deserve a big congratulations.

The recent fires around our area and all the publicity have left many feeling overwhelmed and devastated, this can also have an affect our young children. Our Educators are supporting children in their care emotional wellbeing by being consistent with the children’s routines, setting up play spaces to help children express themselves and deal with what’s happening around them. Honest conversations, following the children’s lead in play and listening to them all support and reassure children.

Our Educators are all showing their support by getting involved with lots of local fundraisers, collecting nonperishable foods, toiletries, supplies for domestic animals and collecting old bandages to be used on animals that have been caught by the fires. Children in care are really embracing being part of our community and helping others. Some have researched wildlife sanctuaries and how they are helping the animals.

A lot of the Children have also been writing letters and making drawings to send to the fire fighters and volunteers, thanking them all for what they have done and keeping everyone safe. Lots of research on wildlife sanctuaries and how they are helping the animals is also underway.

With the endless care and support from their Educators, the children will have a better understanding of what’s happening around them, and will be able to make sense of it all, feeling safer and building resilience.

Meet your Cancer Pals

Well-known Jindera residents, Pat Hayes and Denise Knight, have been appointed as volunteer community advocates for the Albury Wodonga Regional Cancer Centre Trust Fund.

Following a recruitment process late last year, Mr Hayes and Mrs Knight have been named among 15 Cancer Pals, who will help support the work of the Trust Fund in towns throughout the region.

Mr Hayes, who owns the Jindera post office, put his hand up to assist the Trust after receiving treatment for melanoma for the past two years.

“I had a stage four melanoma cut off behind my ear, which had spread to about seven different sites in my body,” he said.

“I started on immunotherapy in Melbourne and transferred to here, and have been really impressed with the treatment I’ve received.

“I stopped treatment in October and had a scan on December 14 which came back all clear.

“I’ve been one of the lucky ones and just want to give back where I can.”

Mr Hayes and his wife, Mary-Lynne, have lived in Jindera for 23 years and have been heavily involved with local football and tennis clubs, as well as the Jindera Pioneer Museum.

Mrs Knight is best known for her involvement with Local Government for more than 30 years, including 13 years as Mayor of the former Hume council, now Greater Hume Council, and Deputy Mayor for four.

Having previously worked with people in crisis situations, Mrs Knight is keen to use the skills she’s developed to help people in the local community who have been impacted by cancer.

“My last paid employment was working with people who were homeless, and I’ve also worked in social and community services, so have spent quite a lot of time with people who have been suffering trauma or coming to terms with the issues they face in their lives,” she said.

“I’ve learnt to work with empathy, and to show care and respect for the way people are feeling, and believe this is something I can bring to the Cancer Pal role.

“I’ve also been on a bank board, and currently on insurance, and apprenticeship and education boards, and just have a strong interest in the community.”

Mrs Knight (previously Mrs Osborne) lost her first husband to cancer eight years ago, while her mum is currently going through treatment for melanoma, making the plight of the cancer centre trust personal.

She has lived in Jindera since 1982 and is also involved with Jindera Rural Care Link.

Trust Fund Manager, Kristy McMahon, said all of the Cancer Pals selected were passionate about improving cancer services for their local community.

“Our volunteers all have a strong knowledge of the workings of the Trust Fund and will serve as a link between us and their communities,” she said.

“We’re really excited to have them on-board and think they will do a great job representing the Trust in our regional areas.”

The Albury Wodonga Regional Cancer Centre Trust Fund raises funds to support cancer services in the Albury-Wodonga region to provide quality care for patients and families.

The four main areas of investment are life-saving medical equipment, cancer research, staff training and development and the Wellness Centre.

Anyone wishing to find out more about assisting the Trust can email:

News from the Jindera OP SHOP

The Jindera Op Shop Volunteers were exceptionally busy over the Christmas period and into January, 2020. The OP shop was one of the first organisations to get emergency requirement to the relief centres in Lavington to support the survivors of the devastation in fire areas.

Twelve huge bags of sheets, towels, clothing etc., went out in the first run and this continued over a few weeks until the relief centre requirements became less urgent.

The Culcairn Evacuation Centre also called out for help during this time and many more boxes of clothing, sheets, and blankets were sent to the Culcairn Lions Club to help them cope with the overflow of people coming from Eden. Many of these people had nothing with them and had taken three days to get from Eden to Culcairn.

The Jindera OP Shop provided this service till Culcairn evacuation centre was able to be closed down.

The OP Shop has also been sending boxes of clothing to the Multiple Sclerosis OP Shop in Wodonga to help them with their requests for many goods. Supplying all these goods has been a big load on the volunteers, but they have rallied to the call and with a few new volunteers on board, have managed to “keep on keeping on”. For these volunteers it’s the end result that keeps them going, and, in this case, it’s also knowing that they are genuinely helping others who are in stressful situations and in need.

One instance that has been exceptionally gratifying was getting together a household of goods to help an older couple from Corryong to restock (in the near future) their demountable home. This couple lost their residential home and all their possessions and literally had nothing.

The Jindera OP Shop volunteers, with goods from the OP Shop, were able to amass enough supplies to set up a kitchen, bedroom, etc., for them to get a new start, and is storing these goods until the couple are ready.

A great story, and, hopefully, many more stories like this will come from the OP Shop in the future.

The Jindera OP Shop coordinator, Colleen Lord, is forever grateful to her team for the untiring work they do to support the community at large.

Jindera Red Cross

power of humanity

2019 saw Jindera Red Cross
celebrate its 80th Year of Service.

The December Red Cross meeting celebrated the 80th Year of Red Cross in Jindera. The celebration was held at the Jindera Hotel where the table was decorated with tinsel and baubles and included a birthday cake iced in white with the number 80 in red on it.

Valmai Ryan, Zone 20 representative, congratulated the branch and presented the President with a certificate for 80 years of service.

Our oldest member, Edna Chugg, cut the cake with the help of Norma Schulz and Esther Scholz. The traditional “Happy Birthday” was sung and lunch was enjoyed by all, and included a piece of birthday cake.

Debra Davenport was thrilled to win the lucky door prize.

The day included lots of talking and laughter, and so ended 2019 on a very happy note.

The next meeting will be on Tuesday, 4th February at 1.30pm.

· PIONEER MUSEUM ·

Well, what a start to the year it has been! The impact of the bushfires locally will remain with many of us for quite sometime to come. The smoke thankfully has lifted, but it has taken some time before people are starting to feel a level of normal coming back into their lives. It has been a quieter than usual January at the museum, with fewer tourists and people just generally feeling subdued. However, as school is about to return, the skies have cleared and the sun is out and we have even been blessed with some rain.

Unfortunately, with the extreme weather conditions and smoke, our family day scheduled for the 19th January had to be postponed. We will hold this later in the year when the weather is more favourable.

Our first event for the year will be Jazz at the Museum, a night for dining and dancing in the grounds of the museum to the Stephen O'Connell Trio. This will be held on the 29th February, 2020 and tickets are now available via Trybooking. Wear your flapper outfit and enjoy great music and a menu reminiscent of the era. We would love to see you there.

Over the last two months the executive has been busy getting organised for this new year. The Master Plan for the museum is underway and should be ready for the AGM in March.

A new alarm and monitoring system has been installed at the museum and this has proved to be quite entertaining. If you are inclined, you could imagine we have a very active group of night wanderers and manifestations lurking in the walls, waiting to appear as the daylight subsides. Perhaps ghost tours are our next endeavour.

The museum has been successful in obtaining a council community grant to have electricity connected to the blacksmith. This will bring us a step closer to having this space open on a more regular basis and make it a space that can be utilised at night. We have also received a small federal government grant to assist with the establishing of a side fence for the blacksmith site.

We have been very fortunate to receive a bequest from the estate of the late Tim Fischer and this will be put towards the construction of a new 'working' machinery shed. We have the opportunity for a collection of motors that all work to come to the museum and we will be able to have these running on a regular display when the new shed is available. We are looking to have an official opening on the Museum's birthday weekend, the labour day weekend. We hope to combine this with another Lost Trades day, so if you create, or know someone who does, let us know so we can get them along on Sunday the 4th October.

The museum will host another High Tea in March and a Campfire night in May. We will schedule our Twilight Tours for June when the atmosphere is more conducive to lantern light. Check out the website and keep an eye on Facebook for details of these events.

We have decided to open the Tea Rooms at the Museum on a Sunday; come and join us for Devonshire Tea, or homemade cakes or biscuits, all fabulous fare created in the kitchens of our wonderful catering crew. The Tea Rooms are open between 11am and 3 pm every Sunday.

Be Water Wise this summer

Permanent Water Saving Rule Reminder

Greater Hume Council is encouraging local communities to remember the watering rule and be water wise as dry conditions continue to place pressure on the region's storages.

Council has joined forces with Albury City and North East Water to deliver a community-wide Water Wise message this summer.

Although compulsory water restrictions are not in force, Council is appealing to the community to remember that "every drop counts".

Tips to save drips.
Be Water Wise.

Greater Hume has a permanent water saving rule allowing the use of fixed sprinklers only between the hours of 5pm and 10am.

This voluntary rule aims to increase water use efficiency, reduce water wastage and reduce evaporation losses.

Greater Hume Mayor Heather Wilton is also urging residents and business owners to be water wise by following simple steps to cut the consumption rate.

"By avoiding things such as watering gardens in the heat of day or hosing driveways, we can all work together to make a collective difference," she said.

"The outlook indicates we're in for a long period of hot, dry weather which is why it's important we set an example as a community and do our bit to conserve our precious water resources" added the Mayor.

"To assist the community to understand water usage, Council has a fact sheet which explains average water consumption in the kitchen, bathroom, laundry, garden and water consumption of livestock" added Cr Wilton.

The fact sheet can be found at :

<https://www.greaterhume.nsw.gov.au/Living-in-Greater-Hume/Water-and-Wastewater/Water-and-Waste-Water-Fact-Sheets>

There are no compulsory water restrictions in place at this stage but with major storages falling and a forecast for drier than usual conditions ahead, it's timely that everyone takes simple steps to use a little less of the precious resource in the hope that restrictions won't be necessary in the months ahead.

Top tips to help you be water wise in and around your home

- Water your garden only between 5:00pm – 10:00 am
- Avoid using water to hose down paths and driveways
- Check and fix leaks - fix dripping taps, look for leaking toilets, check for leaks using your water meter
- Bathroom water savers - keep showers to 4 minutes, install a water efficient shower head and use the half-flush on toilets, use the plug when shaving and turn off the tap when brushing your teeth
- In the laundry - only use your washing machine when full and on eco mode, buy a water-efficient washing machine
- In the kitchen - capture water from your tap, while waiting for water to warm up or washing vegetables, use it to water your garden or indoor plants, only use the dishwasher when full and on eco-mode, install aerating taps to reduce water flow by 50 percent.
- For the pool – use a pool cover, check for pool leaks, consider shade options to reduce evaporation
- In the garden, install a rainwater tank, use grey-water when safe and environmentally sustainable.
- By using mulch on the garden you can stop water evaporation by up to 70 percent. Minimise lawn area, choose plants and shrubs that are indigenous to our local area and suitable for our climate
- Construct paved areas so that they slope, and make use of water run-off
- Choose the right lawn, one with low water demand and high drought tolerance. Prepare the soil. Don't over water. Don't mow your lawn short, a taller lawn will shade the roots and reduce evaporation and require less watering.

Individually, following these water wise rules amount to a relatively small amount of water-saving, but when we combine our efforts the savings become significant, helping us to collectively make a significant difference.

Public meetings of Council are now streamed live, recorded and published on Council's website.

While meetings are open to the public, Council recognises that not everyone can attend in person. Live streaming gives all community members the opportunity to watch and listen to meetings, either in real time or at their convenience, giving greater access to Council decision making and debate.

You can access the video recording of the meeting <https://www.greaterhume.nsw.gov.au/Your-Greater-Hume-Council/Council-Meetings>

Business dealt with at the meeting included:

Approval for a dwelling, carport, garden shed and shipping container to be installed at 1685 Gerogery Rd, Gerogery was granted.

Council also granted approval for a transportable dwelling to be constructed in King Street, Brocklesby.

A Free Waste Facility Access Day will be held on 5 April 2020 at all facilities in the shire. Patrons will be asked to provide evidence that they are a resident of the shire, and be able to dispose of rubbish and waste free on that day, with fridges, freezers, mattresses and tyres to be at half price for the day, and a limit of 2 tyres only at the reduced price per household. The free access day will be widely promoted to the community.

Council adopted the Hours of Operation for Pools Policy, which will result in all pools being opened one extra hour on extreme hot days where the weather is predicted to exceed 40 degrees. The policy also deals with what actions will be taken in the event of adverse weather and other issues that might impact the safety and welfare of patrons and staff. You can read the policy on Council's website.

Recently it was announced that Greater Hume received $1Million under the Drought Communities Extension Program. Council considered a report recommending the allocation of $800,000 to the upgrade of playing surfaces at Culcairn, Henty Holbrook and Jindera sportsgrounds, a further $25,000 to a place making study for Culcairn and the preparation of a mandatory adverse event plan. Council will receive another report in February regarding the remaining allocation of $150,000.

Council will take the lead role and advocate for sustainable levels of state funding for library services across Greater Hume. Council will also lead a deputation to Member for Albury, Justin Clancy, and write to Minister for Arts and Shadow Minister calling for bi-partisan support for CPI indexation of state funding for NSW libraries. Further Council will promote the message for sustainable funding within the community and be involved in any actions proposed by the NSW Public Libraries Association.

Council will take formal steps to acquire a crown land roadway which runs across the Brocklesby Recreation Reserve.

Council accepted an offer to permit a licence to graze Council land in Baird Street, Culcairn.

Council deferred a decision to relinquish the section 355 committee managing the Walbundrie Hall, to enable further consultation with the community.

Council will undertake preliminary investigation for a potential purchase of land in Holbrook and it will offer the property at 11 Wattle Street, Culcairn for sale by private treaty.

The next Council meeting will be held on 19 February at Culcairn.

Meeting agendas and minutes are available for viewing at any time on Council's website or in person at any Greater Hume Customer Service Office.

Future of Holbrook Early Learning Centre Assured

The Holbrook Early Learning Centre committee of management has announced that they are no longer able to be a provider of children services in Holbrook. The volunteer committee have announced that the task of operating the facility in the highly regulated and ever changing childcare industry become increasingly difficult and that the task of meeting all of its obligations is too great for volunteers.

The committee have approached Greater Hume Council to take on the operations of the Holbrook centre and Council has commenced discussions with the Australian and New South Wales education departments to facilitate the transfer of operational approvals from Holbrook Early Learning Centre to Greater Hume Council. Jane Hayden, Branch Manager from the Department of Education stated that "The government's priority is to ensure that families have ongoing access to child care in Holbrook and we will continue financial support through the Community Child Care Fund irrespective of whether the child care operator is the Holbrook Early Learning Centre Incorporated or a new provider. My team will work with the Holbrook Early Learning Centre and any new provider to ensure regulatory processes are prioritised to support continued operation of the child care centre".

Greater Hume Council currently operates centre based child care services in Henty and Walla Walla along with an extensive Family Day Care service across southern NSW and north east Victoria. It is Council's aim to have the Holbrook service opened for children from late January 2020 subject to the smooth transfer of the required regulatory approvals and staff recruitment processes.

OFFICIAL SKATE PARK OPENING

Greater Hume Council officially opened the Jindera Skate Park on Dec 8th with a Sydney based skate-boarding group To-tem entertaining the crowd with their expertise on a skate board and running workshops.

This was a bit of a challenge for some who were only used to using scooters. Prizes were handed out to those who participated.

Since then an extra concrete pad was added to the northern end to allow more variety and challenge to the users, along with safety measures. A seat will also be added.

It was disappointing to see graffiti sprayed on the walls and everyone is encouraged to monitor what happens down there and to report any misuse of the facility. Thank you to whoever cleaned it off quickly.

The Jindera Wetlands - Surviving the drought

Jindera's Wetland area is surviving the drought. Although there is no water in the wetland channel the reeds growing in and along the channel are tapping the underground moisture and so remain green.

Some plants have died in the adjacent woodland. They have not survived the drought!

Why have some survived and some haven't? All plants in the woodland area were planted over the past 2 years and have all benefited from the small falls of rain since planting. Those that are continuing to grow through the drought do so for three reasons.

First, being plants native to the Jindera area they have adapted in such a way as to be able to draw on the limited soil moisture underneath the 'bush mulch' scattered over the soil surface.

Second, weed control has been undertaken in the woodland area and so competition for moisture has been limited. Plants not able to survive were not truly native to the area and are unable to tap the limited moisture available before and after weed removal.

Thirdly, some plants have developed drought survival 'techniques'! One such plant is the "Happy Wanderer" (Hardenbergia violacea). By erecting its leaves so that they are perpendicular to the ground they expose only a small area of leaf to the hot sun, and so evaporation from the leaves is minimised. Moisture is conserved within the plant and they still have the moisture in the soil under the mulch to draw on.

Take a stroll over to Jindera Wetlands and see for yourself!

JINDERA ANGLER'S CLUB Inc.

Happy New Year, well it can only get better and as a club we send our sincere thoughts to all those affected by the fires and also the drought.

We have had a bit going on with a December fishing comp with the weigh-in being held in conjunction with a very successful Christmas party. The fishing comp was our annual cod opening event with the star being junior Ashton Lee McKie with a ripper 97.5cm Murray cod C/R, Wayne Polley had a 57cm cod, Phil Higgs had a 53cm yellowbelly, Laz Peli had a bag of reddies 3090, Zol Peli had a bag of reddies 4580.

Many, many fisherpersons received the donut award for conservation, fishing and releasing prior to catching, there were many undersize cod caught with trout cod around the 300 to 500mm being very common catch in the upper Murray area.

Congratulations to Shamdonk fishing charters for there work with young Wayne Polley and a big thank you to Graham and boof for setting up the Talmalmo camp.

The Christmas Party was gourmet delight, from your traditional lunch complimented with trifle, pavlova, Christmas pudding, Rhonda Watt and her team of workers did a wonderful job of catering for the mob. Members were that full of great food, drinks were almost overlooked. Thanks gang.

Next event was the catering for Christmas carols, and club members were proud to be able to supply the sausage sizzle and drinks on the night. A very good evening was had by all who attended.

After Christmas the proceeds of the wood raffles, catering were put to good use with the Anglers Club purchasing and releasing 3000 Murray Cod fingerlings on Saturday, 11th January, at the 12 mile reserve downstream of Albury. The club had 12 boats and crew releasing the fish and most stayed on for a fish after the release.

The club has also had a January open fishing comp on the weekend of 17,18 and 19th with a large number of our club members having a fish, most fished the weir and the 12 mile reserve.

The winner of the best fish was Shane Bradbury, Murray cod 56cm, best bag of fish, Lazslo Peli reddie and a yella 5870, junior winner was Josh Bradbury Murray cod 56cm, Zol Peli also had a great bag of reddie 5670 and a yella. The really good fisher people all got donuts for not troubling the scorer.

Thanks must go to Pavarotti who donated his fish to the club to raffle and Trevor and Naomi Lieschke both went home with a good feed of reddie, thanks Laz.

Jindera Country
Golf Club

Happy Days at Jindera Golf Course, at last substantial rain and even better news in that the powers to be have approved our water bore for use and we will be able to forge ahead with consistent watering of tees and green surrounds.....whoohoo.

Golfing has continued over the summer period with vets golf on every Wednesday with a 9 hole competition with tee off time 7.30 for 8am hit off.

Sunday summer golf is on, 18 holes every Sunday with a tee off time from 8 to 9am. Visitors Welcome.

Friday Night is our popular 9 HOLE CHOOK RUN tee off from 4.30, this is a very social event and no handicap or golf ability is necessary.

December saw the AGM and it was reported the club had a very successful year with many improvements, the greens have been refurbished, water pipelines have been extended to cover the entire course, tees have been re-done, an arborist has lopped many dangerous branches and shortly the destumping of trees will take place.

It has been an exceptional year for falling branches and trees, the volunteer members have done a sensational job of keeping the course tidy and safe, even in drought conditions the course looked great, plenty of run for the ball as well.

Players have been hitting the ball out of sight, particularly some of our vet players, Singo, Bob Smith, Mark Pearsall and Dave Gray.

With the AGM the committee was elected for the new year with Stuart Millar elected as President, Daryl Klein Secretary, David Gray is treasurer, Graham Schilg is captain and David Briggs is head grounds person. This years membership fees remain the same at $10 joining fee and $80 annual membership, junior golfers memberships are only $10 per year.

Memberships can be paid on line or contact our treasurer David Gray on 0427808395

Sandra Kilo resigned from the position of treasurer after 13 years in office as treasurer, Sandra received a standing ovation for her sensation contribution to our club, Sandra hasn't quite escaped as she maintains her duties with the ladies committee and as a talented golfer.

The official golfing season will commence with a 2 ball opening day event on Sunday, 8th March, tee off time 8.30 to 9am.

Sandra Kilo retires from being treasurer of Jindera Golf Club after 13 years of continuous service.....thank you Sandra
