MINI QUICHES WENT OFF WITH A BANG

What an exciting event it was when Costa visited Burrumbuttock School and Wirraminna in late January this year. 'Bring a plate' was requested by the school for a welcome afternoon tea for the gardening celebrity.

I made a platter of mini quiches using Tracey Harrison's recipe \(below\).

They were an immediate success with Costa, children, parents and teachers enthusiastically snapping up the little taste sensations.

He even asked for the recipe, which I gladly gave to him from a photo I'd taken of my rough recipe book scribble when Tracey first told me the recipe years ago.

So now it is happily shared - for any of you who missed out on the day Costa came to town!

Marion Vile.

Mini Quiche recipe

Ingredients:

4 eggs

2 cups of milk

1 packet Spring Vegetable dry soup mix (or half a packet of French Onion soup mix)

1 teaspoon French mustard

Frozen Puff pastry sheets

Bacon rashers –chopped/cooked, or chopped ham

Fresh herbs eg. Chives, parsley

Method:

Mix all the first four ingredients together in a large bowl.

Cut circles of puff pastry and place into greased muffin trays.

Place small amount of bacon/ham, fresh herbs into each pastry shell, then pour small amount of egg mixture into each one.

Bake for 15 – 20 minutes at 220 degree celcius

THE BURRUMBUTTOCK COMMUNITY FORUM MEETING was held on 27th March 2023 at the Burrumbuttock Hall.

Ten community members were in attendance including two Councillors, Cr Ashley Linder, and Cr Jenny O'Neill.

Col Wiltshire, Janice Whitty and Marion Vile presented at the GHC community consultation session at Culcairn on 8th November 2022 submitting the document entitled 'Burrumbuttock Priority Projects'.

Col reported that GHC had never heard of the Gibson Drive subdivision, which is on Council-owned land.

It originally had 48 blocks, and we suggested that 13 allotments be developed.

A letter will be sent to GHC asking about the current status of the Council-owned Gibson Drive subdivision, and ask that they give it urgent attention. The Jacob Street solar lighting has not yet been done, nor has the drainage been fixed in Jacob St, as promised.

The Forum has been advised by Council that there will be a pre-warning intersection sign erected on the Brocklesby Road to warn of the Beatrice Road entry. This was in response to the Forum's request for speed reduction signs in this area.

The Greater Hume Shire Council Report was provided by Ashley Lindner. He reported that the Burrumbuttock Cemetery Road has now been transferred from Crown to Council land, so it will be able to be graded in the future.

The new toilet block at the Rec Ground is going ahead and also the LED lighting upgrade for football, netball and tennis playing areas.

Roads Strategy – a road grading schedule has now been established across the shire.

Residents are requested to submit a Customer Service Request (CSR) for any improvements needed on roads.

There was concern expressed about the Walla Burrumbuttock Road – this road is in poor repair, especially given that many trucks use the road, also school buses. It needs widening, and also needs reflectors for times of reduced visibility such as fog. Residents are recommended to submit CSR about their concerns.

Burrumbuttock will be having 150th Year Celebrations in 2025.

A date should be claimed as a starting point. The long weekend in October is already booked with local shows eg. Walbundrie and Culcairn. A history book could be prepared, or the past one revised and updated. Expressions of interest will be requested to form a committee for these 150th celebrations.

There are ongoing concerns about the safety of the main Burrumbuttock intersection. It was suggested that stop signs would be helpful to make motorists stop before entering the intersection.

A letter will be sent to the GHC Road Safety Committee.

ANZAC DAY AT BURRUMBUTTOCK

Drought Preparedness: Planning is the best defence against drought

Rural Financial Counselling Service (RFCS) NSW said that with a prospect of El Niño returning in 2023, the time to plan for drought is now.

The Bureau of Meteorology (BOM) has updated its latest outlook, which suggests La Niña may be easing after three years. Whilst this is a welcome relief for primary producers across NSW who have suffered through excessive rainfall and extensive flooding, the BOM has indicated there is a chance of a hot and dry El Niño returning.

A hot and dry El Niño system could see an increase in the chance of drought, as well as ideal conditions for grass and bushfires. The best time to prepare is now, when dams, feed reserves and bank balances are ideally favourable.

RFCS NSW Executive Chair Anita Kemp said that with the impacts of 2022's flood events on harvest yields, livestock production and market access resulting in reduced or delayed incomes, many business owners are feeling apprehensive about a return to drought conditions.

"Farmers in NSW are well aware of the challenges presented by droughts. As fodder runs low and the condition of stock deteriorates, ongoing access to working capital can cause significant financial stress," Mrs Kemp said.

"Compounding this financial stress is the devastating effect of drought-related stress that takes an enormous toll on mental health, physical wellbeing and relationships. Having a drought management plan in place now is a practical way you can prepare and respond, and build long-term resilience."

Mrs Kemp said planning is the best defence against drought and your local Rural Financial Counsellor can work with you to develop a free drought management plan. RFCS NSW can help you to consider your drought-related risks and put in place an action plan to respond to drought-related triggers.

"RFCS NSW offer a free and confidential service specialised in agricultural and rural small business financial management."

"Our local Rural Financial Counsellors are skilled in drought management plan preparation and can guide you through the preparation work to gain the clarity and confidence you require throughout the process. With RFCS NSW support and assistance this can be an insightful and positive process, giving you control of your financial future," she said.

"RFCS NSW is a not-for-profit organisation with a primary purpose to strengthen communities by helping rural and regional businesses be prepared, responsive and sustainable.

"Call us anytime on 1800 319 458 and we can help get your financial future in place."

WHAT AN ACHIEVEMENT FOR A SMALL PUBLIC SCHOOL !

We are very proud of our Year 6 School Leaders for representing our school at the Burrumbuttock ANZAC Day service and for also conducting a very respectful ANZAC Ceremony at school.

Thank you to all the students who attended the community service representing our school very respectfully in their uniforms.

The Canberra Hangover, Colin Wiltshire

Avid readers of the Bulletin may remember that back in the October edition of the Bulletin I told the story of the trip my wife and I made to Canberra in September, for the Floriade Festival.

Unfortunately, at the time of writing there was another episode in the excursion, still to come. Some months later I received two 'communications' from the ACT Government, Access Canberra, notifying me of speeding offences, which were Camera Detected Offences, traffic infringements contrary to Road Transport (General), Act 1999, Section 24.

The penalty for each was $307, and the loss of one demerit point, making two. Wow! The whole three day trip had not cost that much. We'd paid $280 for two nights accommodation, fuel was about $70, food probably less than $100, and say $50 for incidentals.

That's $500, and now I was facing the potential of having to cough up another $614 – FOR WHAT! It wouldn't break the bank, but it was not funny, particularly when I couldn't understand how I committed the offences. Twenty years ago, it wouldn't have been surprising.

The first accusation was that at 4.34pm I travelled at 51kph, through a non-school zone limit of 40kph; and the second offence occurred six minutes later at 4.40pm and alleged I had travelled through another non-school zone limit of 40kph, at 49kph.

Both infringements had occurred in Northbourne Avenue, at different intersections.

The word 'garbage' rattled around my head, but an emotional outpouring via a few expletives was not going to resolve anything. How do I deal with this? I had 28 days to settle the matter, and there was a list of seven options available, to do so.

A – Pay the infringement; B – Submit and infringement notice declaration, blaming someone else for driving; C – Apply for withdrawal of the notice; D – Dispute liability; E – Apply for a management plan; F – Apply for a waiver of the penalty; and G – Apply for an extension of time to take action.

The choice was obvious. C – apply for the notice to be withdrawn. Go online, complete the questionnaire, and supply relevant details. One of those details was to I had to submit a copy of my driving record.

That was a bit of a worry, since the preamble suggested that it was unlikely the infringement would be withdrawn, if I'd committed an offence in the last five years.

Damn; my record showed I'd gone through a red light four years and eleven months ago. Disappointing since I'd disputed the matter at the time, and asked for it to be dismissed.

However, the bureaucratic decision maker turned down my appeal, on the basis that the informing office claimed I'd gone through the light, six seconds after it changed. Six seconds is long time in these circumstances, as by that stage the cross traffic would have been well in my way.

But undeterred I pressed on with my application. (continued page 9)

Regarding my two speeding infringements Nos. 655860 & 655861, I would like to apply to have them withdrawn. Following is the list of factors I would like you to take into consideration.

1. At no point was I aware I was in a 40 kph zone.
 2. Despite the fact that I travelled this route about six times in two and half days, I did not see the signs but apparently, I was not detected speeding on these other four occasions.
 3. My recorded speeds of 49 kph, and 51 kph, suggests I was obeying a 50kph limit, which was my understanding of the restriction.
 4. Also, the time between the two detections of 6.27 mins. for a distance of approximately 450 metres, suggesting that at no stage was I hurrying.
 5. At no point did my Sat/nav indicate I was exceeding the limit, as I would have expected it to. (continued page 9)
6. At no point did I notice the traffic about me slow down, otherwise I would have reacted accordingly.
 7. With regard my red light offence, I believed I was not in contravention, if I proceeded through an orange light, which is what I did.

Since the information stated that the fines included a payment to the ACT's 'victims of crime' provisions, I considered making a 'without prejudice' payment to the fund, of the prescribed amount. But Nah!

I perused the submission briefly, thought it was rather good, even convincing, but who knows, I was dealing with public servants, probably socialist bureaucrats, I cursed privately, then hit the send button.

I've heard no more, so I'm assuming I'm off the hook, but if the matters have been withdrawn, I've not been notified, nevertheless it would be reassuring to know. Then again, maybe it still swings.

It's ironic, since I thought the traffic control algorithms in the city were poorly programmed, and did very little to improve traffic flows or movements. As I said so in my first story about our trip to Canberra.

Burrumbuttock Preschool

Exciting start to Term 2. We have provided the children with some new experiences including a Vet area, sand drawing with examples from Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander and Vanuatu cultures, more complex board games, cooking with the playdough, jumping between carpet mats, dolls house play and tennis outside.

We welcome Rorie-Mae to Preschool.

Even though we started back this Term after ANZAC Day we have still be discussing ANZAC Day including investigating what we all did including watching video of the Scots School Bagpipe and Drum Band that performed at Burrumbuttock and also the Bugle playing of the last post as well as reading the book What You Might See on ANZAC Day.

Wirraminna News

Autumn has arrived, and is one of the best breaks that many of us can remember. Good rains and then warm weather means that crops, pastures and gardens are all flourishing. In Wirraminna the pruners have been busy, shaping many of our shrubs which have been out-growing their space. Correas are now in flower, and are looking lovely. The pale yellow Flinders Ranges wattle is usually the first to flower and will soon be out. The big dam will probably soon acquire its autumn colour as the red algal bloom will develop. The frog pond is already blooming.

Of course the rain brings on all the annual weeds, and we have started to work on the wattle beds, using Sue's gas burner to remove the mass germination of annual grasses. If we can prevent seeding, we can gradually replace all the weedy understory with native grasses and wildflowers. This is a delicate process as we don't want to lose the leaf litter and rotting logs which are so important for the frogs, insects and spiders which are so important to maintain biodiversity. A hose and a watering can are vital tools, as well as the burner.

At the end of May, we will be hosting a field day/meeting with the Holbrook Landcare Network and Slopes to Summit project, which will look at our grassland restoration work in the Burrumbuttock Woodland and our seed production area. This will bring together a group of people with experience and interest in grassland and understory restoration and will be an opportunity to share experience, successes and failures with others attempting the same things.

Stacee is starting her maternity leave this week. We wish her and Rory well and look forward to meeting the new addition to their Family. We have been fortunate to find Amy Adams, who will step into her shoes for the rest of the year providing administration support and hosting visiting schools.

BROCK-BURRUM FOOTBALL CLUB.

As the new 2023 season unfolds we look forward with great anticipation and hope for the boys representing our joint communities this year.

While our recruiting has been a bit of a mixed bag this year, we can report that our numbers are now looking very strong. Our Auskick numbers have increased significantly this year and we invite any interested prospective Auskickers to come along on Thursday nights (Brocklesby Rec ground 4th and 11th May, then Burrumbuttock Rec Reserve 18th and 21st May) for a tryout and some fun with a free BBQ afterwards for the kids. Everyone is welcome and all participants have a great time learning new skills and making new friends.

Our U14s were looking very light on with only a few weeks to go before the start of the season, but due to the hard work of our new U14s coach Alex Tackle and his team manager Ash Lindner, we now have enough numbers, that with a couple of permits from in town we can field a team every week. So far the boys have won their first game convincingly against the crows, just got beaten by a whisker against the bulldogs and unfortunately outclassed by the spiders. We expect that this group (made up of only a couple of top age kids) will really improve over the next year or two and be back in finals contention before long. Currently sitting just outside the top 6 in 7th spot

Our under 17 boys have very strong numbers (well done coach Braden Eddy) with quite a few boys who have played on permit for us in the past, enjoying it so much they have decided to come out and make us their home club. We welcome them and their families to the Brock Burrum Saints. There is a lot of ability and potential in this group with some of the boys already having played up in the seniors and reserve grade this season. So far, the boys have had a big win against Jindera and a very close loss to Howlong last week (the first week Billabong Crows had to forfeit due to lack of numbers). Our U17s are sitting in 4th spot on the ladder and the smart money is on them to make a strong appearance late into September. Could this be their year????

Our reserve grade has struggled a bit to have consistent numbers at the selection table with injuries, unavailabilities, weddings and illnesses all taking their toll. Coach Danny Williams has been 'hard at it' on the phone to chase up legends from yesteryear and new players to help make up numbers.

Thanks also to the U17 boys that have also put their hand up to help and are acquitting themselves superbly in the higher grade and have been outshining some of their more experienced team mates. (the future looks so bright, might need to wear shades). So far the boys had a huge win against the Billabong Crows but were "touched up" by Jindera and Howlong. This leaves them currently in 9th spot on the ladder, but watch this space, they are better than that position suggests.

Our senior team rocked by the retirement of man mountain Matt Seiter (struck down in his prime – his ailing legs no longer able to carry him further, we wish you a quick and full recovery "Goof") and with last years Best and Fairest Runner Up Tyson Neander deciding to "have a crack" at Ovens and Murray football, playing for Lavington (kicked a couple of goals for them last week – so going well) has not started the season as well as coach Peter Cook would have liked.

The senior side has welcomed some new recruits, Corey Pearse - Ruck and Forward from Calivil United and Harry Cozens Centre halfback and gun Auctioneer from Wahgunyah. We also welcomed the return of – Mason Hamilton utility player and "hard nut" back from Holbrook – Joel Felmingham midfielder back from Thurgoona - Trent I'Anson can play anywhere, anytime back from injury and Mitchell Koschitzke Utility player back from a year with I think the Foreign Legion. So as you can appreciate it will take a few weeks for all the boys to gel like we know they will. While they do not have a win on the board yet, they have been "Oh so close"!!! Going down by 7 points against the crows, down by 13 points against Jindera and 5 goals against Howlong last week. But don't let this start fool you. Cookie is bleeding some of the younger boys and also working hard to mould these players into a formidable unit.

On the Social side, we hosted the Brocklesby 1983 Reserves Premiership reunion last weekend at our new Social rooms, it was great to see these distinguished gentlemen let their hair down (the ones that had hair) and relive the glory of that day 40 years ago. Thanks to their larger than life captain Geoffrey "Piggy" Land for organising the event and keeping us entertained with his stories of personal valor on that premiership day.

We also held a very successful Players Auction night after the Howlong game with our taste buds tantalised by the delectable delights of our masterchef's inspired casserole tea provided by our very talented Footballers and Netballers, great to see so many people sticking around after the game and enjoying each others company.

(Thanks to the ladies in the kitchen)

Also a great big thanks to our major sponsors, The Astor (where a great night was had by all when they hosted us for our after game dinner and awards the previous Saturday night, pictured RIGHT) the SS&A, Grill'd and Adrenaline whose generous support is much appreciated. We also wish to thank all of our sponsors and recommend a quick flick through "The Saintly Report" (also available online) so that you may be in a position to support those that support your club and help to keep your community growing and vibrant.

Don't forget our next 4 games are:

May 6th v Osborne at Osborne – Awards at the ground

May 13th v Holbrook at Brocklesby – Awards at Brocklesby Functions room – Trivia night

May 20th v Lockhart at Burrumbuttock – Awards at Farmers Inn

May 27th v Murray Magpies at Urana Rd oval – Awards at the Astor

Finally we would like to congratulate Jarah McMillan who chalked up his 50th senior game for the club against Howlong last week. Well done Jarah!!

Don't forget the day usually starts at 9.00 am with the Auskickers kicking the dew off the grass. Do yourself a favor, come along and watch these kids having the time of their life!!! I challenge anyone to come and witness this and not walk away with a smile on their face and warmth in their heart. Kids playing sport, is there anything better???

Go Sainters !!!!

Awards at the Astor – Sat. April 22.

Saturday, June 24th at the Brocklesby Rec Ground

Put the date in your Diary – Saturday 24th June.

Brock Burrum Nethball Club

Gday Saints! The start of the season is always one of the busiest times of the year so lets get into it!

Round One we came up against Billabong Crows on a beautiful day at Brock. Our U11s came away with a confidence boosting win of 21-1, as well as our U13s team, with a win of 47-4. Our U15s have had a VERY strong start to the season, beating a strong Billabong side 52-5. The U17s have shown some major improvement from last year, however they went down to the Crows 17-45. C Ressie is looking promising this year until the guidance of Del Taylor, with a round one win of 39-28. C Grade worked hard over the preseason and had a few wins in their preseason matches, however Billabong were too good in this game and beat our girls 17-40. B grade had a tough one against the Crows, but showed a bit of grit and walked away with a win 34-28. A Grade have been working well together despite nearly a brand new team but went down 25-65. All in all, a mixed bag of results from Round one, but some great matches played!

Round 2 saw us as Jindera on another beautiful, if not stinking hot day. The U11s went down to the Dogs 6-17, as did the U13s, 25-35, however both teams played well. Our U15s prevailed against a very strong Jindera team and won the game 22-36. The U17s showed even more improvement this week, but unfortunately went down 22-36. C Reserve were up against it from the first whistle, and while they were neck and neck for the first part of the game, Jindera were too strong and won 21-54. C Grade as well had the odds stacked against them with a portion of their team away, and were beaten by a resilient team in Jindera, 17-38. B grade similarly started the game well, but the heat and injuries got the beat of them, going down 22-61.

A grade, like all of our senior teams this week, were missing some vital players, and while they put up a good fight, were beaten by last years grand finalists by 18-73. Not the results we were after from Round 2, but we look ahead to a couple of promising match ups in the weeks ahead.

Round 3 was a cool, overcast day at Brock. Perfect for netball! Our U11s played a nailbiter against Howlong, and won by 1 goal! Our U13s bounced back from the previous loss and posted a tidy little win of 41-7. Our U15s again were too good, beating Howlong easily, 41-14. Keep your eyes on the U15s, they are quickly becoming the side to beat! All of the hard work at training and during games paid off for our U17s coming away with a win against the Spiders, 32-30! I'm not sure who was happier, the girls or the coaches! C Reserve were eagerly looking to redeem themselves with a win this week, however Howlong was just too strong, and our girls went down 17-59. This mirrored the game in C grade, with our girls putting up a good fight, but falling short 17-49. B Grade were in the match for the first half, but Howlong's consistency under goal was too good, beating our girls 32-50.

A Grade have been working extremely hard at training the last few weeks, and were really hoping to showcase this during the game. Unfortunately Howlong was just too strong, winning 25-65.

We had some girls playing some Milestone games for our club during the first 3 rounds of the season. Round 1 we had Liz Ehlers playing her 50th game, as well as Claire Hemsley during Round 2.

In Round 3 we had former Burrum local Linita Boulton playing her 150th game as a Saint!

Congratulations to these girls, such a great achievement, with more milestones to come!
